

Julie Liedtke is a veteran in-house employment law practitioner. Currently on an engagement with Cisco Systems, Inc., she is an Attorney with FLEX by Fenwick, an affiliate of Fenwick & West LLP, that provides experienced in-house legal support to technology companies.

With over 18 years' practice experience, Julie has in-depth expertise in helping multinational companies manage their global workforces and navigate broad and often complex U.S. and international employment laws.

Prior to FLEX, Julie was Director, Global Employment Law at SanDisk Corporation, and previous to that she was with Synopsys, Inc. for 11 years. Julie received her B.S. in Business Administration from San Jose State University in 1990, and her J.D. from Santa Clara University School of Law in 1998.

When she's not busy being an attorney, Julie loves to tour the world. In 2016, she took a 10-month sabbatical (coinciding with SanDisk's acquisition by Western Digital Corp.) and traveled to Italy, the Czech Republic, Austria, Portugal, Spain, Kenya and Tanzania. It was fabulous!
